

Three Shot Burst

From: AK-47.net

The three shot burst trigger group allows you AK to shoot semi, three shot burst, and full-auto by using the selector switch. Installing this trigger group will require extensive modification to the internal parts and receiver of the gun. It is best to let a licensed machine gun manufacturer legally install the trigger group in your gun. Do not attempt to modify your current semi-auto into a machine gun, it carries a heavy fine and often leads to a slam fire method. Three Shot trigger groups are currently available for the AK-74 at most AK parts company's.

Legal Warning - Alone full auto parts are not illegal to possess. However should you own/store the compatible rifle with the parts the ATF will charge you for the intent to illegally manufacture a machinegun. If convicted this carries a heavy fine and a minimum of a ten year prison sentence per infraction. The sale of full auto parts are intended to be used as replacements for current full auto guns, not to manufacture new ones.
